3. Sample Size?

The authors should justify the sample size according to the study purpose and methods

In this study, the sample size was determined based on the research purpose, the deep learning methods used, and the need for sufficient data to effectively train and evaluate the model. - Research purpose: The goal of this study is to classify breast cancers from mammograms using deep learning techniques. A sufficient number of samples is needed to ensure that the model can generalize well, learn relevant features, and make accurate predictions. - Deep learning methods: The deep learning models used in the paper require an adequate amount of labeled data for training to capture complex patterns and avoid overfitting. - Practical considerations: The sample size also takes into account data availability, as we source mammogram images from public datasets or from clinical partners. The number of images is sufficient to cover a wide range of benign and malignant tumors, including various features such as tumor size, location, and shape.
